

Productivity Insights Network Team

Dr Maria Abreu

Maria is a University Lecturer at the University of Cambridge and works on topics related to creativity, higher education, migration and local labour markets. She is leading on the Skills, Work and Labour Markets theme for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Jonathan Cook

Jonathan is a Director at SQW and has over 14 years' experience in applying economic analysis to public policy interventions. He leads much of SQW's work in the fields of innovation, enterprise, business support and access to finance. He is co-leading on the place based analysis for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Iain Docherty

Iain Docherty is Dean of the Institute for Advanced Studies at the University of Stirling. His research interests focus on the interconnecting issues of public policy, institutional change and city and regional competitiveness, especially the role of transport in promoting economic development and environmental sustainability.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Gary Dymski

Gary is Professor and Chair in Applied Economics at Leeds University Business School working across the fields of public policy, political economy, money and banking and macroeconomics. He is leading on the Organisations, Institutions and Governance theme for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Ben Gardiner

Ben is a Director of Cambridge Econometrics, and has been working in economic consultancy for over 20 years. His specialisms include econometric modelling and forecasting, with a particular interest in regional and labour market economics. He is co-leading on the thematic analysis for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Richard Harris

Richard is Professor in Economics at Durham University Business School and has published over 150 journal articles, chapters and books, mostly related to productivity. He is leading on the Trade, FDI, Capital and Investment Markets theme for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Andrew Henley

Andy is Professor of Entrepreneurship and Economics at Cardiff Business School working on entrepreneurship and small business and in regional and labour market economics. He is leading on the place based analysis for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Robert Huggins

Robert is Professor of Economic Geography at Cardiff School for Economic Geography working on regional economic development, in particular the study of clusters of competitiveness, knowledge flows, entrepreneurship, innovation and inter-organisational networks. He is leading on the Technology, Innovation, Competitiveness and Enterprise theme for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Richard Lewney

Richard is Chairman of Cambridge Econometrics, and has over 25 years' experience in the application of applied economic analysis and economic modelling to policy analysis, policy evaluation and forecasting, for government and private sector clients. He is co-leading on the thematic analysis for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Colin Mason

Colin is Professor of Entrepreneurship at the Adam Smith Business School, working on entrepreneurship and regional development. His specific research interests are entrepreneurial finance, high growth entrepreneurship and entrepreneurial ecosystems. He is co-leading on the thematic analysis for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Leaza McSorley

Leaza is a Professor of Enterprise within the Faculty of Business, Law and Tourism at the University of Sunderland. Leaza's research expertise is in regional economic development (particularly EU Cohesion policy) and labour market issues (social inclusion and wage inequality). Leaza is leading on the health, well-being, ageing and demographic change theme and is also the Early Career representative for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Kirsty Newsome

Kirsty is Professor of Employment Relations at Sheffield University Management School. Her current research examines the interplay between internal and external forces in the restructuring of the employment relationship, the labour process and value chains in retail distribution and logistics. Kirsty is leading on the Employment, Work and Labour Relations theme for the Productivity Insights Network team .

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network

Productivity Insights Network Team

Professor Vania Sena

Vania is Director of the Business & Local Government Data Research Centre, based at Essex Business School. Her research mainly focuses on the econometric analysis of the determinants of productivity growth. Vania is the Data Director for the Productivity Insights Network team.

Contact Us: productivity@sheffield.ac.uk

productivity
insights
network